CONSTITUTION

AND

By-Laws

OF THE

QUEBEC MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

PREAMBLE.

At a meeting of the Mechanics of Quebec, held on the sixteenth of December, 1830, convened for the purpose of deliberating on the expediency of founding an Institution, which should have for its main object the improvement of the condition of the working classes.

It was determined, that as the end proposed is best attained by placing the means of intellectual acquirement, within the reach of those desirous of benefiting thereby, and which is best effected by an union of efforts, the establishment of a Society in Quebec, to be termed "The Quebec Mechanics' Institute," should be attempted.

The chief objects to be pursued by the Society thus formed, shall be, to cultivate the most useful branches of Knowledge, and for that purpose to commence forthwith the formation of a "Library," the major part of which shall consist of works of a purely scientific character: to make known, by means of honorary and lucrative rewards to be offered, such discoveries in nature and art as might otherwise remain concealed; by bringing together, in one association, men of different pursuits, and various acquirements; to collect a mass of information, which may have the effect not only of enlarging the minds of the members of the Institution, and of rendering each more useful in his sphere of action, but may also tend to the advancement of the interests of society generally, and of this Province in particular; to establish, as soon as the means of the association will permit, lectureships on Natural, Mechanical and Chemical Philosophy, and other scientific subjects; to create a Museum for the benefit of Mechanics, and to establish Schools for the benefit of their youth; and with that view, and as a necessary appendix to the Library, to collect all kinds of Chemical and Philosophical apparatus.

And it is agreed the society with these views shall be denominated " The Quebec Mechanics' Institute," and the objects set forth in this preamble having been so far successfully adopted; and a great increase to the Institute daily taking place, it was deemed advisable to appoint a Sub-Committee to revise and correct the rules and regulations by which the Society has hitherto been governed: which having been done the following were unanimously adopted and declared to be the standing rules of the Society, at a meeting held at the Institute's Rooms, on the 13th of May, 1840.

CONSTITUTION.

Article 1st. This Society shall be denominated " The Quebec Mechanics' Institute ", which appellation shall be unalterable.

Article 2d. Its object shall be the instruction of Mechanics and others, in popular and useful sciences, and its application to the Arts, and Manufactures, by means of lectures, apparatus, models of machinery, a museum, a library, and a school.

Article 3d. This Society shall be composed of an indefinite number of Members, who shall be divided into three classes, viz: senior, junior, and life members.

Article 4th. Applicants for admission to Membership must be proposed and seconded by two senior Members at theregular monthly meetings of the Committee, and should they be elected, it shall be the Treasurer's duty to supply them with a card on their paying him the annual subscription in advance.

Article 5th. All persons who after having been duly admitted, shall pay to the Treasurer for the use of the Society, the sum of Ten Pounds currency, shall become Members of the Institute for life. And all persons who shall pay to the Treasurer, in advance, the following annual sums to wit :—Senior Members, Ten Shillings or upwards.—Junior Members, Five Shillings—shall become Members of the Institute. Subscriptions to date from the day of admission. No life member shall be called upon for any annual payments.

Article 6th. The officers of the society shall consist of a President, five Vice Presidents, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, two Librarians, and a standing committee of twenty-one, (two thirds of whom shall be operative Mechanic's) for the general management of the affairs of the Institute, with power to elect their own secretary.

Article 7th. The President, Vice Presidents, and the standing committee for the time being, shall be the Trustees of this Society, and as such, shall hold and manage the property of every description belonging to it.

Article 8th. The officers of the Society shall perform the various duties assigned them in virtue of their offices gratuitously; and in the event of any officer declining to attend to the due performance of the duties attached to his office, such officer shall be considered as having resigned and the office shall be declared vacant.

Article 9th. It shall be the duty of the President, or in his absence, of any one of the Vice Presidents, or in their absence, of any member of the standing committee, to preside at all meetings of the Society, to preserve order therein; to receive all motions, in writing, with the name of the movers and seconders, and to propose the same without comment, and when an equal division takes place, to give the casting vote: also to call a special meeting of the Socicty whenever a requisition to that effect is made in writing, signed by seven Members.

Article 10th. It shall be the duty of the Recording Secretary to attend all meetings of the Society to take minutes, to read the minutes of each preceding meeting, and to keep the records of all the proceedings of the society; to countersign all orders on the Treasurer; to give the Members due notice of the meetings, whether special or adjourned, and to notify the new officers elected of their appointments by advertisement.

Article 11th. It shall be the duty of the corresponding Secretary under the direction of the standing committee, to answer all letters addressed to the Society—to open and maintain such correspondence as may tend to promote its interests, to keep a record of all his acts, and to report to the committee on the first Wednesday in every month.

Article 12th. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer (who shall furnish such security as may be required of him by the committee) to collect all debts due the Socicty; to receive all donations in, and securities for money; to keep an account of all receipts and disbursements,—to pay all orders regularly drawn on him, and to report his receipts and disbursements to the committee on the first Wednesday in every month.

Article 13th. The Treasurer's accounts to be annually examined by a special Committee of three members, to be appointed at the semi-annual Meeting of February: this committee will present their report to the President in sufficient time to have it embodied in the annual report which will be submitted at the annual Meeting for the Election of the Committee.

Article 14th. It shall be the duty of the Librarians jointly, to take special charge of the Library and of all the property belonging to the Society (money excepted)—to receive subscriptions and donations, and hand them over to the Treasurer—to keep a Catalogue of the Library, in which shall be specified all donations made to it,—to keep a record of all the Members and Subscribers to the Institute, and to report to the Committee on the first Wednesday in every month.

Article 15th. It shall be the duty of the standing Committee to meet on the first Wednesday in every month, (seven shall constitute a quorum) to manage and superintend the whole business of the Society; to frame by-laws, rules and regulations, for the better regulation and good government of the same in accordance with its constitution—to appoint to any vacancies that may occur among the officers, during the interval of Election meetings ; to appoint the servants that may be required, to remove them whenever they think fit, and to fix the salaries of such servants, to convene extraordinary General Meetings of the Society at their discretion ; to make all purchases ; to examine all bills, claims and accounts, and to authorise the payment of the same, through the Recording Secretary to the Treasurer : to advise and assist the corresponding Secretary in the discharge of his duties ; and to report at every semi-annual meeting of the Society.

Article 16th. All transactions of the Committee, shall be open to the inspection of the senior members, at all General meetings of the Society.

Article 17th. The ordinary General Meetings of the Society shall be held on the first Wednesday in February and August in every year, for the purpose of receiving the report of the Standing Committee. The Anniversary Meeting, for the election of officers, shall be held on the second Wednesday in February, in every year.

Article 18th. The Election of Officers shall take place at the Anniversary meeting of the Society, of which Thirty members will constitute a quorum. The Election shall be conducted in the following manner, to wit :—

Members for life, and Senior Members, who have been Members for at least 6 calendar months, prior to the day of election, are alone eligible for office, or entitled to vote, but Junior Members shall not be eligible to any office, nor shall they vote on any occasion whatever. Each Officer, or class of Officers, shall be ballotted for separately, and their election shall be decided by a majority of the members present. The Presiding member, when an equal division takes place, shall give the casting vote, and shall declare the names of the Members elected Officers for the ensuing year.

Article 19th. In order to preserve the harmony of the Institute, no personal or disrespectful remarks, or impugning the motives of a member, or remarks of a religious, irreligious, or political nature shall be allowed.

Article 20th. Any alteration, amendment, or addition to the present articles of the Constitution, shall be submitted in writing, (signed by at least seven Members) to the standing Committee ; and after having been read, shall lie on the table, for not less than one month, or more than two months consideration, and shall then be submitted by the committee, to the President, and Vice Presidents, together with their report thereon ; the whole thereof to be finally submitted to the semi-Annual Meeting, next ensuing, for decision—and if approved of by two-thirds of the Members present, shall be adopted.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The Library and Reading Room shall be kept open regularly from Six to Ten o'clock, P. M., every day, Sundays excepted.

OF THE READING ROOM.

Article 1st. No conversation shall be allowed in the Reading Room, otherwise than in a whisper.

2nd. No person shall be permitted to smoke in the Rooms, or injure the furniture, or conduct themselves in any way inconsistent with decorum.

3rd. No Periodical, or Newspaper shall be taken from the Reading Room, until the succeeding number shall have been received : nor shall any person keep a Newspaper more than one day, or a Periodical more than five days, or take more than one number at a time.

4th. A book shall be provided in the Reading Room, for the purpose of affording the members an opportunity of entering remarks and suggestions relative to Mechanics, and the Arts and Sciences.

OF THE LIBRARY.

Article 1st. No Member shall be suffered to move a book from its place in the Library, without permission of the Librarians.

2nd. No member shall be entitled to receive a book from the Library until he shall have paid all sums due from him to the Institute.

3rd. A member applying for books, shall receive but one volume at a time, if it be folio, or quarto, or two octavo's, (except where the plates belonging to the work are bound in a separate volume, when that also shall be delivered if required,) and but two volumes, or set, (not exceeding four volumes,) if it be a duodecimo, or volume of less size ; and not more than one volume of any of the Magazines, or Reviews shall be taken from the Library at one and the same time by any one individual: nor shall the same be retained for a longer period than ten days.

4th. Members may exchange one book for another once in every day; and, for the general accommodation, it is most earnestly requested, that, in all cases, the books be returned as soon as read.

5th. No member shall lend any Book or Periodical belonging to the Institute.

6th. Any member who shall keep any Book, Newspaper, or other Periodical, beyond the period allowed shall forfeit the sum of one penny currency per diem, until returned, which fine, shall belong to the Sub-Librarian, who is empowered to refuse delivering any other work to that member, until the fine be paid.

7th. Any member suffering a book to be lost, written in, torn, or otherwise damaged, whilst in his possession, to pay for the set, (if part of one,) or make good the damage, as may be agreed on by the Committee—the Committee shall report every member who refuses or neglects to comply with this rule; or who may be guilty of any misconduct, to the next general meeting; and such offenders if the majority of the meeting see fit, shall be expelled from the Institute.

8th. Apparatus, statues, models, globes, maps, plans, paintings, engravings, and drawings, and such books as the Committee may declare to be works of reference, shall not be taken out of the Library; and a list of such works of reference shall be placed in a conspicuous place in the Reading Room.
